

Holly Hagler Biography

Holly Hagler is the President & CEO of Meals on Wheels Orange County, one of California's largest safety-net nonprofits providing social, nutrition, and health services to older adults. Meals on Wheels Orange County delivered a million meals annually before COVID-19 to at-risk older adults in Orange County, and this number dramatically increased to two million at the height of the pandemic. The nonprofit also provides social services such as Adult Day Health Care, Case Management, Care Coordination and other programs designed to help older adults remain safe in their homes and the communities they love.

Holly serves on the leadership council for the OC Strategic Plan for Aging, on the boards of directors for Meals on Wheels America and for Meals on Wheels California, and as co-chair of Partners at Home Network. She also is past board chair for the National Association of Nutrition and Aging Services Providers and past co-chair of the Orange County Aging Services Collaborative.

Holly's career spans senior-level business and nonprofit positions. She earned a Master of Management (MM) from the Kellogg School at Northwestern University and dual undergraduate degrees from the University of California, Irvine.
